A Bank Letter To The Ladies.

Women sometimes dread transacting business with a bank. They are not familiar with banking methods, in many cases, and many may have had experiences which have not made the thing they feared any easier. Such women always leave this bank smiling and happy, dread all gone and glad to come again. The reason is we take special pains with women patrons. If there is an "little detail about a transaction not wholly clear to them we take special pains to make it clear, it having long been our experience that extra time with a woman customer never fails to result satisfactorily both to the woman and the bank. We invite the account of women assuring them at all times of most gentlemanly and respectful treatment, gladly giving careful attention to every item of business placed in our hands. We are always glad to have them consult us at any time upon matters concerning their business affairs and will be glad to advise or suggest as our best judgment directs.

A. E. Jewell, wife and son, of Cresbard, S. D., were in the city for a few hours Thursday on their way to Miami.

Mr. Jewell and his family had made the journey from Cresbard in a Buick-10. They left home the 6th of last October and had a very pleasant trip, finding the roads comparatively good all along their route, with the exception of those in Southern Georgia and some sandy stretches between Jacksonville and Daytona.

They made several stops along the way, spending three weeks in Atlanta, Ga. They were very much pleased with Daytona and will return later in the season and spend some time here.

NEWSPAPER.

The next time you notice something particularly attractive and which appeals to you among the advertisements in the Daily News columns just mention this to the merchant in whose ad. this appears the next time you go into his store to make a purchase of some article mentioned in the advertisement.

This little matter of courtesy will please the merchant as well as the publisher of this newspaper and will cause you very little inconvenience. From all sources we are receiving compliments on the good appearance and news contents of the Daily News this season and we know the newspaper is being more appreciated by the people of Daytona this year than it ever has been in previous seasons. Not only are the readers appreciating the efforts of the publisher to give them a good newspaper, but the business men are just as appreciative and are showing their appreciation by liberally using its columns as the proper medium through which to increase their business.

The Daily News will miss no opportunities to boost the city and its interests and the editor will be glad to receive any suggestions along this line.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16—A seventy-mile an hour gale is sweeping the Atlantic coast today, menacing shipping interests and bringing a wave of intense cold, which is causing intense suffering.

Fully a score of people have been injured by the fierce wind in the streets, automobiles are stalled and some of these machines have been literally blown backward while trying to buck against the wind.

An unusual feature of the storm has been made known in a message from the Mallory liner Colorado from Boston which states that the port rigging has been blown away, the decks are covered with ice and the crew is almost helpless.

Two men have been found frozen to death and reports from all parts of the North Atlantic states say there is suffering from the extreme cold, but conditions are helped some by the fact that there is no heavy snow in those parts.

ANY WORK FOR POSTAL

OF CHRISTMAS MAIL WILL KEEP CLERKS BUSY.

PACKAGES SHOULD BE GOTTEN OFF EARLY, THEREBY LESSEN-
ING STRAIN AND INSURING
PROMPT DELIVERY.

To the employees of the postoffice the approach of Christmas is not held in happy anticipation. While the thought of the happiness this greatest of all seasons brings to others may cause the postal clerk's heart to leap with joy, yet the dreary work at Yuletide usually makes the approach dreaded.

In addition to the bulky packages which are sent by the ton through the mails at this time there are millions of letters and Christmas postcards to be handled and the life of the men who handle the mails from now to the end of the year will be one of constant toil under heavy burdens. To handle the Christmas avalanche additional help will be required in practically every postoffice in the United States and this will be the rule at the Daytona branch of Uncle Sam's great system.

Realizing the fact that the employees of the Daytona postoffice will be crowded to their utmost to handle the additional mail of the holiday season, and that every postal employee in the country will have all he can do, Postmaster Smith urges all Daytona patrons of the postoffice to mail their Christmas packages, letters and postals early.

By getting your Christmas mail off now you are assured of a more timely delivery and you will help to relieve the burdens of the postal employees. For some days yet the outgoing mail will be much heavier than the incoming but within a week the outgoing tide will be overwhelmed by the flood of incoming mail matter.

Because of the extra work imposed on the postal employees at this season of the year it does not necessarily follow that they will be careless in the handling of the mail, but it is only natural that a person who has more time to do his work can do it better than one who is crowded.

Buy your Christmas gifts at once and get them off in the mails as early as possible.

DAYTONA A CITY OF BEAUTY

By L. C. DEMAREE.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who has ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a speeding pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world better, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls fit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom gamely food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sail about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, with hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments, both solid and liquid, ready for a cruise upon this beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with pink draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite leaves; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cryptogams which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and, as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering, "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such a wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the land of truth to give the finishing touches which have wrought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for the pavements, pavements that look and act like granite—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruit.
Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "flowers and squirrels, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare goober there is a bunny ready to come and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and know into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers. Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round, you are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where smiling spring its earliest visit paid And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variegated hues predominate; another household has a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish you.

The Fastest Autos and The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or Timbuctoo, and you will be "shown." Here is where the world's record for speed is broken with every recurring season. Autos, the biggest, the fastest, and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousands of flowing wells. It is a continuous show with a constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horse power up to a 200-horse power, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit, when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down into your wallet only for coin for auto, and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

A Useless Instrument.

At the age of thirty-four Sir Robert Ball was appointed astronomer royal for Ireland, and for a number of years he was at Dunsink observatory. A workman strolled in one day and asked if he could see the moon through the large telescope. Sir Robert said he would be pleased for him to do so, but he must wait till the evening, as it was then daylight.

The man was disgusted, and as he turned away he remarked: "Lor' bless yer, I can see it meself then without any telescope!"

Nipped.

"But," asked the defaulter, who was arranging for transportation to Mexico, "haven't you something special for tourists?"

"No," replied the ticket agent. "Pardon me, but I have," chimed in the detective, appearing at that moment with a pair of steel bracelets; "here's something special for tourists. Suppose you try 'em."—Critic Standard and Times.

LAKE HELEN
Surrounded by several pretty lakes and guarded by lofty pine trees is Lake Helen, a winter resort of no little importance. Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY
The principal attraction around Orange City is the many hundreds of golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

Governmental Ownership OR Socialism.

LET those of us who are in business be fair with the people and the people will be fair with us.

Let us see and accept the TENDENCY OF THE TIMES.

Under the method of large corporations regulated and supervised by federal authority with widely distributed ownership and with labor interested in the business you have all the SAFEGUARDS AND ADVANTAGES that the most ardent advocate of government ownership could desire.

You leave to men the goal of achievement; you leave their ambition unhampered. This is SOCIALISM OF THE HIGHEST, BEST AND MOST IDEAL SORT.

His Queer Feeling.
A naval official praised at a dinner in Washington the old sea dog. "One of these typical old sea dogs," he ended, "was persuaded one day in Philadelphia to attend a tea. I met him a short time afterward and said: "Well, Marlinspike, I hear you've been doing tea parties in Philadelphia?"

"'Yes, sir,' the old salt replied. 'I did go to one tea party, sir.'"
 "'And how did you feel there among all those ladies?' I asked.
 "'I felt like a sperm whale doin' crochet work,' he replied."

A Denby Dale Pie.
Inhabitants of Denby Dale, near Barnsley, England, have had the habit for 100 years past of baking enormous pies to celebrate great events. On one occasion a Denby Dale pie contained half a sheep, twenty fowls and half a peck of flour.

Paraguay Lace.
Lacemaking was taught the natives of Paraguay by missionaries two centuries ago. Today in all towns of 8,000 inhabitants many of the men and nearly all the women and children make lace collarets, handkerchiefs and ladies' ties.

Rubbing Out a Turner.
On New Bond street, in London, some years ago a Turner worth $60,000 was destroyed by a charwoman. The Turner was a water color drawing, and a painting in oils hung beside it. The owner pointed to the painting and said:

But the charwoman by mistake rubbed her damp cloth over the water color, turning it into a blot, a smudge, and thus one of the finest Turners disappeared from the world.

Good Hunting.

It was at St. Andrews, in Scotland, the home of golf, where the links stretch away over the moors by the sea, and dear, quiet Aunt Mary had come up from London to visit a golfing family of nephews and nieces. At tea the next afternoon some one managed to stop talking golf long enough to ask, "Well, Aunt Mary, and how did you spend the morning?"

"Oh, I enjoyed myself immensely, my dear. I went for a walk on the moors."

"A good many people seemed to be about, and some of them called out to me in a most eccentric manner, but I didn't take any notice of them. And, oh, my dear, I found such a number of curious little round things! I brought them home to ask you what they are."

Hereupon Aunt Mary opened her workbag and produced twenty-four golf balls.

Rheumatic Pigs.
Pigs are troubled by rheumatism more than by any other disease. Its work is so insidious oftentimes and its attacks so various in form that it is not recognized, but it may be set down as a rule that if the pig is afflicted by some mysterious malady, particularly one that incapacitates it in some manner, it is rheumatism.—Country Life in America.

PALMETTO CLUB HOLDS MEETING.

DECEMBER FIFTEENTH PHILANTHROPIC DAY.

REV. DR. GEO. L. HASCOM PAS-TOR OF FIRST CONGREGATION-AL CHURCH OF JACKSONVILLE ADDRESSED THE CLUB.

Thursday afternoon, Dec. 15, was in charge of the Philanthropic Department.

The president, Mrs. Graham Thompson, announced the board had subscribed for the Federation Bulletin and the Keystone, both club papers and that five minutes would be devoted to reading selections from them.

Mrs. Thomas White gave several interesting items.

The president introduced Mrs. Abbott, who gave "A Glimpse of the Work," showing how much had been done since the department was started twelve years ago.

The children of the Waycross Kindergarten, lead by their teacher, Miss Julia Green, sang three songs, entitled: "We are the People," "Better be Good" and "The Sandman." The children were all neatly dressed in white and proved a credit to their teacher, adding a pleasing part to the program.

Mrs. Abbott then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Rev. Dr. Geo. L. Hascom, of Jacksonville, who had for his subject, "Character Building." Rev. Mr. Hascom is a fine speaker and his address was listened to with great interest.

Ralph Evernden gave the club members much pleasure by singing "The Song of the Turnkey" and for an encore "O, Come to me my Love." His sister Miss Evernden, accompanied him.

In the front of the room was a bower of greens trimmed in red and white for the Christmas shower, for the little folks, and it was well laden with gifts and money to add to their happiness on Christmas morning.

It was decided to have the banquet at the Ridgewood hotel the evening of January 5, each member having the privilege of inviting one guest.

Miss Lillian Thompson had charge of the music for the afternoon and Mrs. Hunnewell and Miss Congdon were the hostesses.

HALIFAX RIVER YACHT CLUB PROLONGS VISITORS' STAY.

The value to the city of such social organizations as the Yacht Club and Automobile association was well demonstrated by an occurrence this week in connection with the first mentioned institution.

A gentleman who was registered at the Ivy Lane Inn for a week's stay in the city was taken to the club house by a member, and introduced to other members of the club, and found it such a comfortable and sociable place that on his return to the hotel he extended the engagement for his room to a period of two months and will probably outstay that time.

IS SUCCESSFUL FISHERMAN AS WELL AS HUNTER.

Ernest Kreitzberg, who is an ardent and successful hunter, is likewise a good fisherman. Thursday morning in company with John Smith he enjoyed some excellent sport, fishing in the channel opposite the Prince George hotel. They returned after a trifle over two hours with between 90 and 100 fish, all trout and of good size. The fish were still biting well when they ran out of bait and were obliged to discontinue operations.

REGAL PLUGGER ARRIVES; HAS COVERED MANY MILES.

ed the car, was sent out on a journey which included the crossing of every state in the Union except the ten in the Southeastern section of the country. During this long drive streams were forded, mountains were crossed and swamp lands were negotiated. At various times days were taken up in traversing extremely short distances, but victory always perched upon the banner of the "Plugger" and she arrived at her destination in shipshape.

On this southern trip the car left Jacksonville nearly a week ago expecting to run to Tampa, back as far as DeLand and then down to Miami, coming back along the East Coast. The trip was made to Tampa and back to DeLand, but here the plans were changed and the route brought it across to Daytona. The plan to run to Miami was abandoned and Messrs. Riggs and Sherard will go through to Jacksonville and back to Savannah.

Car Well Decorated—

Since leaving on the trip the car has not been washed. She is covered with mud from many states and shows the effect of hard going. The engine is the same one that was placed in the car when she was first turned out of the factory. Not a new part is to be found. It has been overhauled but not repaired by the addition of any new parts.

Around the sides of the car are hung the tags of thousands of firms in different parts of the United States. These tags were placed on the car in every town in the country where she stopped. The drivers carry a shot gun and a few trophies of the hunt are to be found intermingled with the shippings tags of the many firms. A large American flag floats from its staff on the rear of the machine.

Messrs. Riggs and Sherard, of Detroit, Mich., are the two men who have taken the car over the country. They have become bronzed and toughened by the hard trip. With their khaki uniforms and high boots they look more like hunters or miners than machine drivers, but then they have hunted for roads hundreds of times and have mined their car out of mud and water times without number.

The aeroplanes, which arrived recently have been unloaded and taken to the Daytona Beach Garage, awaiting the arrival of the owner, E. F. Andrews, who is expected tonight or tomorrow.

PROGRESSIVE NEW SMYRNA

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlarded with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by heavy forest growth that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the state of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest citrus groves in the state is raised on this land. Abundant vegetable gardens are also available. For more information, apply to the Schantz Electric, Ice and Water Co.

ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED WITH DEFINITE PURPOSES.

OBJECTS OF SOCIETY ARE SET FORTH IN CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS ADOPTED AT MEET-ING HELD AT PRINCE GEORGE.

In the short space of one week the Hotel Men's Association of Daytona has grown into a healthy infant, which knows what its purpose on earth is, knows what it wants and proposes to have it.
At the second meeting of the association, held at the Prince George hotel Thursday evening a constitution and bylaws were adopted, these rules having been worked out by a committee consisting of Messrs. L. M. Waite, W. W. Hilgard and H. C. F. Dohm. The purposes of the organization, as set forth in the constitution and bylaws is to work together with the purpose in view of boosting the city of Daytona at all times and looking after the interests of the members of the association. Two more officers were added by the constitution in the board of directors and W. W. Hilgard and Henry Schmidt were elected to fill these offices. A publicity committee, whose duties shall be to seek opportunities to advertise the city of Daytona at all times and place before the people of every section the advantages of this city on the Halifax as an ideal winter resort, was named in E. M. Sammis, E. Lane and A. O. Holroyd.

A subject which caused considerable discussion among the members of the new organization was the placing of the hotel busses at the depot, the consensus of opinion being that the automobile busses should be at one end of the platform and the horse busses at the other. An effort will be made to bring about this kind of an arrangement to prevent the frightening of teams in the depot yard. The matter was placed in the hands of a committee consisting of E. D. Langworthy, C. O. Chamberlin and Henry Schmidt. The committee is empowered to act for the association in making some kind of a different arrangement for bus stands and take up with the officials of the Florida East Coast line the matter of having a telephone in the ticket office.

Efforts will also be made by the members of the association to have a live board of trade organized in the city of Daytona to work with the hotel men's organization in an effort to get Daytona on the map in big letters.

By the adoption of the constitution the regular meeting nights of the association were set for the first third Monday in each month, with the annual meeting to be held the third Monday in November of each year. As the first Monday in January is the time set for the opening of the new Clarendon hotel it was decided to hold the next meeting the Thursday following, January fifth.

HOLLY HILL

HOLLY HILL, Dec. 15—Capt. McCoy has taken the officials of the East Coast Canal Company on the steamer Republic to Miami.

C. Roy Miller is home again from Chicago.

Dr. and Mrs. Potter were here on Wednesday.

After being confined to the house for a couple of weeks, Kenneth Heath is now able to be about again.

Geo. Harris writes that it is his intention to spend the winter in Cleveland with his son. While visiting a brother recently Mr. Harris had a very unpleasant experience. The house was burned and the inmates were barely able to escape. He only managed to save a few belongings.

V. L. Smith, of Aylmer, Ontario, Canada, was calling here Tuesday. He expects to spend the winter in Daytona.

DENZENS OF DEEP SEA
TO BE EXHIBITED HERE.
L. H. Schermerhorn of St. Louis and A. Farmer of Valdosta, representing Capt. Chas. Adams Moore's marvelous marine monsters, a curious collection of denizens of the deep sea, were in Daytona on business Thursday. These gentlemen are making arrangements to bring this collection of deep sea monsters to Daytona and will exhibit them here some time after the first of the year.

KENNEY PLEASED.
SURPRISED AT PROGRESS OF WORK ON THE CLARENDON

EVERYTHING, EVEN TO INSTALLATION OF WIRELESS, WILL BE READY FOR THE OPENING
ON JANUARY 2.

Work on the new Hotel Clarendon is progressing nicely and at present there seems to be no obstacle which will prevent the scheduled opening on January 2, with the building completed and furnishings all in place.

This is the way things look to Manager W. S. Kenney, who arrived here Wednesday from New York, and has taken active charge of the building. Mr. Kenney was agreeably surprised at the progress that has been made in the construction work and fitting up of the building and is very much pleased that the original plans to open the new hotel, January 2, will go through without changes.

On his arrival here Manager Kenney found a heavy mail, numerous requests for bookings from the middle western states, results of advertising the new hotel in that section of the country. Indications are that the Clarendon will start the season with nearly all rooms engaged.

Mr. Kenney has signed the contract for the installation of the wireless station, which will be one of the features of the hotel. The apparatus has been shipped from New York and an expert is now on the way here to superintend the installation. The wireless operator will be Mr. Jones, at present wireless operator on the steamship Momus of the Southern Pacific line. The Clarendon station will connect with all stations of the United Wireless company and practically all ocean vessels. By this arrangement bookings for accommodations at the Clarendon can be made by passengers on steamers in mid-ocean.

HOTELS OPEN FOR SEASON; NOW READY FOR TOURISTS.

RIDGEWOOD AND PRINCE GEORGE
HOSTELRIES HAVE NOW
THROWN OPEN THEIR DOORS FOR THE WINTER SEASON.

Two of Daytona's popular hotels opened their doors to the public Thursday for the winter season of 1910-11, when the Ridgewood and Prince George hostelries served their first meals at 6 p. m.

Both houses have been put in splendid condition for the winter's business and the proprietors are well prepared to handle as large a number of guests as during any previous season.

Christmas is a time when the negroes of the South are most in need of help. Now that they are being treated as slaves instead of citizens they are being refused the privilege of working while the holiday spirit is in the air. This means that Christmas is a week of idleness for the negroes. Every negro man, woman and child—makes the most of the week, and the fun runs high. On many plantations the negroes are almost as much a part of the "plant" as they were during slavery. They have the feeling that, inasmuch as they belong to the place the rest of the year, the place belongs to them for the holiday week, and they take advantage of the opportunity to do as they please.

For weeks in advance the holidays are anticipated with joy, though not with any great degree of preparation. The plantation negro, generally speaking, lets tomorrow take care of itself. But some of the more provident ones begin to store up for Christmas. The fattest pumpkin is picked up from the corn rows and put away for pie material. The turkey gobbler in the back yard is fattened for the occasion. Old Aunty hides her jars of preserves from the younger generation. Uncle Ike becomes a confederate in the happy conspiracy for saving things to augment the Christmas spread.

Christmas morning the negro children are up bright and early. There is method in their early rising. From time immemorial southern people, both white and black, have cherished the belief that there is much virtue in being the first to shout "Christmas gift!" in meeting a friend on the morning of the great day. In some sections this priority of greeting is expected to result in the forfeit of a gift from the other party. Accordingly the little negroes make a point of running up to the big plantation house and greeting the white people with a lusty "Christmas gift!" in the hope of receiving at least a big red apple, a fresh baked pie or a stick of striped candy such as the general store on the plantation is sure to keep in stock.

The best fiddler on the plantation is the hardest worked man of all, but he enjoys every scrape of his bow, while the dance goes merrily on. The Christmas dance is a continued story. It begins Christmas eve and continues every night in the week. If the weather is not too cold the big barn floor is cleared for the dance, but if heat is required the "function" takes place in the biggest room of the biggest

CHRISTMAS BERRIES.
 Where the Holly Grows and How to Find the Best.
 The old fashioned Christmas greens were rosemary, ivy and bay, but in the 2000 tons of wreathing and decorating material which it is estimated that we now use every year there is a much greater variety. Best loved of all is the glossy, red berried holly. "Holly" was the old English name for it, and it is thought to be identical with the "greenwood tree" of British ballads and of Robin Hood fame. On our side of the Atlantic the American holly (Ilex opaca) is found from Maine, where it grows as a shrub, to North and South Carolina, where it lifts a symmetrical cone of dark, shining leaves set with scarlet berry clusters along a beautiful trunk of gray and silver to the height of seventy or eighty feet.

Delaware and Maryland are usually credited with furnishing the best grades of holly to Christmas markets, but their "Three X" brand, as seen after shipment to northern cities, is not so finely berried as the Carolina holly, plentiful in the region around Asheville. In America there are three distinct grades of holly. Trees that stand on dry, barren hillsides, as a rule, are heavily laden with thick, knobbly clusters of berries, but their leaves are likely to be small, yellowish and imperfect. Follow some little stream to a sheltered, sunny glade where a holly trunk gleams white, and there you will find leaves large, dark and perfect, with a thick scarlet fruitage lighting the shadows evenly all over the tree.

An Artist's Criticism.
 Probably no two artists ever criticized each other more severely than did Fuseli and Northcote, yet they remained fast friends. At one time Fuseli was looking at Northcote's painting of the angel meeting Balaam and his ass. "How do you like it?" asked Northcote after a long silence. "Northcote," replied Fuseli promptly, "you're an angel at an ass, but an ass at an angel."

Patience is bitter, but its fruit is sweet.—Rousseau.

A Matter of Newspaper.
 An Austrian army officer who died a few years ago left the whole of his fortune to a nephew on the condition that he should never appear in a newspaper. The will stated that this nephew, who held a post in a government office, was too fond of reading newspapers—a habit which the testator considered most pernicious. There were appointed to keep a watch over the heir, and in the event of a single infringement of the prohibitory clause the fortune was to be distributed among other members of the family.

Early Intimations.
 Fond Mother—I'm sure Horace will be a great astronomer when he grows up! This is the third time this week he has cried for the moon!—Bystander.

"I've got another nut for you to crack, daddy," chattered the young squirrel. "What made the March hare mad?"

"I don't know for certain," replied the old squirrel, "but the chances are he once heard an amateur elocutionist tell a 'hare lip' story."—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Men care not what new lights may dawn
 'Midst polar agitations.
 Their hopes are concentrated on
 Their own refrigerators.

MAYOR PROPOSES REFORMS TO MEMBERS OF COUNCIL

PROSPECTS ARE EXECUTIVE UP ANCIENT CITY WILL HAVE TROUBLE IN GETTING ORDINANCE ADOPTED.

The mayor of St. Augustine has "woken up." Not only has Mayor Masters "come to," but he believes it is time the members of the city council and citizens of the quiet city of ancient fame should also wake up. Therefore His Honor, the mayor, has addressed a communication to the council advising that a new ordinance shall be drawn up and adopted regulating the saloons and that the new ordinance be rigidly enforced.

The proposition to regulate the saloons in the town up the coast has been a long time coming and there is a strong liability it will not come now, judging from the howl that has gone up since the mayor's communication was read to the members of the council in session Wednesday evening and referred to the ordinance committee.

Among the recommendations in the mayor's communication are that the number of saloons be limited to one to every 1,000 inhabitants, except that licenses shall be granted to hotels without regard to population statistics, a higher occupation tax, that the approval of the council shall be secured before a license is issued, that no intoxicating liquors be sold to both whites and blacks in the same building, the prohibiting of private rooms and the revocation of licenses for violation of city ordinance.

The mayor states in his communication that all of these recommendations may possibly not be constitutional, and so might not be included in such an ordinance, he believes it is time for some kind of legislative legislation on the part of the St. Augustine city council. The discussion which followed the reading of the communication to the council showed that the mayor will have difficulty in getting his reform ideas embodied into a real ordinance.
